President Message

Greetings from India,

It is a matter of great joy for me to learn that SAPA news Bulletin is being published by Pakistan Pediatric Association. I extend my sincere thanks and congratulations to Prof Tahir Masood and Prof Aisha for bringing out this inaugural issue of SAPA Bulletin. In fact, it is a matter of great pride and honor for me to write my message as founder President of SAPA, I am extraordinarily happy as bringing out this Bulletin is a mile stone in our Journey of strengthening SAPA. All of us (the member countries) might be independent geographically and politically, but if we turn the pages of History we all belong to the same native culture, therefore our societal framework and mental status remains the same. Different member countries might have different work culture, dress code, worship styles but our cognitive process and perception for health issues by and large remain same. An asphyxiated newborn only needs an effective first breath he is not at all concerned that hands who are providing him first breath belong to which country. So the Nationality of a Pediatrician is children land and his religion is to provide an optimal opportunity for our children so that they are mentally, spiritually and physically strong in entire south Asia.

Ours is a region of thriving democracy; of rich inheritance; the unmatched strength of youth; and, a strong thirst for change and progress. Nowhere in the world are collective efforts to combat Under Five Mortality are more urgent than in South Asia; and, nowhere else is it so modest. Big and small, we face the same challenges - a long climb to the summit of child survival. But, I have great belief in our boundless potential, and, confidence - that comes from the many inspiring stories of innovation and initiative in each of our countries. There is much to learn from each other; even more - to do together. If we are sensitive to each other's child health issues, and the lives of our people, we will deepen friendships, spur cooperation and advance stability in our region. SAPA stands with NEPAS in the recent calamity and we pay our sincerest homage to the departed souls of our children there. Let us work together to fulfil the pledge to combat preventable child Deaths in our region. Long Live SAPA, long live our SAPA Bulletin.

CP Bansal, President SAPA

Sapa an Overview

South Asia Pediatric Association (SAPA) is an association of Pediatric societies of South Asia. Bangladesh, India, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka are among the founder member countries. The representatives from all these countries met on November 16, 2013 at New Delhi and constituted SAPA with the common vision of promoting child health through regional co-operation. SAPA is affiliated with International Pediatric Association (IPA). The objectives of SAPA are promotion of friendship between the Pediatricians of all South Asian countries for the benefit of children and the promotion of child health throughout the region. First SAPA conference was organized with the Bangladesh Pediatric association (BPA) in April 2014. Delegates from all member countries actively participated in the first SAPA conference.

Editor's Note

It is an honor and immense pleasure to bring forth the first issue of SAPA bulletin. The task was assigned to Pakistan Pediatric Association (PPA) by SAPA countries during its first meeting. In the electronic era of fast communication, SAPA bulletin is a small endeavor to bring member countries close to each other. The news bulletin will also provide a platform for sharing new views, information and knowledge among SAPA countries. Through this bulletin I also request the members of SAPA countries to share their innovative ideas or ongoing projects in their countries that can bring a measurable change in the life of children and youth in other countries. Looking forward to your comments and suggestions.

Sri Lanka College of Paediatricians (SIPA)

The Sri Lanka College of Paediatricians is the leading organization in the country which is involved in continuing medical education and research in the field of Paediatrics. More than 500 doctors are members of this prestigious organization to date.

The Sri Lanka College of Paediatricians is the successor to the original Ceylon Paediatric association which was inaugurated in 1952. Ceylon Paediatric association later became Sri Lanka Paediatric Association and transition of Sri Lanka Paediatric Association to the Sri Lanka College of Paediatricians took place in 1996 with Dr. B.J.C.Perera as the Founder President.

Sri Lanka College of Paediatricians is the most dynamic professional organisation in the country providing continued medical education not only to its members but also to the other health care providers. Paediatric life support, Neonatal life support, Advanced Paediatric life support courses are conducted throughout the year. Monthly clinical updates are being held specially focussing on current paediatric practices to introduce evidence based medicine to budding paediatricians. This organisation takes the leading role in policy developments and formulation of disease specific treatment guidelines.

The college encourages young Paediatricians to get involved in research activities by providing guidance as well as research grants. The official publication of the College is the "Sri Lanka Journal of Child Health" (ISSN 1391-5452) which is published quarterly and is indexed in SciVerse Scopus, IMSEAR and available as free access full text in the World Wide Web.

Annual academic sessions conducted during the mid-year provide a platform for the young researchers to showcase their scientific activities. Invited speakers from overseas join hands with our own experts to share the knowledge and experience with young Paediatricians in the country.

This year we are organising the 18th Annual Scientific Congress of The Sri Lanka College of Paediatricians in conjunction with the 2nd South Asian Paediatric Association conference. We look forward to have the most vibrant academic sessions from 31st July to 2nd August.
